INDICTMENT

The Grand Jury charges:

COUNT 1

(Mail Fraud)

A. Introduction

1. The State of Missouri defines an “abandoned vehicle” as one that has been left unattended on private property without the consent of the owner or lessor of the property if it has been left unattended for more than 48 hours or a law enforcement officer determines that the vehicle is a safety hazard or unreasonably interferes with the owner or lessor’s use of the property.

2. When statutory requirements are met, the owner or the lessor of the property can authorize a tow company to remove the vehicle. After sending the vehicle owner and any existing lienholder timely notice that it would claim title to the abandoned property, either the tow company, the property owner, or the lessor of the property can apply to the State of Missouri Department of Revenue (“DOR”) for title to the abandoned vehicle. The DOR also requires the applicant to provide sworn affidavits establishing the abandonment, copies of the notices sent to the vehicle owner and lienholder, and copies of certified mail return receipts that predate the application by at least 30 days.

3. A storage facility may also obtain title to a vehicle through use of a mechanic's lien when the owner has defaulted on a payment agreement. Similar to the process used to obtain title to an abandoned vehicle, the storage facility must send the vehicle owner and lienholder notice of its intent to obtain title to the vehicle at least 30 days prior to submitting its application for title to the DOR. It must also attest to the DOR that the vehicle owner is overdue in making payments by a minimum of 45 days.

4. Independent contractors of the DOR operate license offices within the Eastern District of Missouri. Applications for abandoned vehicle titles and mechanic lien titles and the supporting documentation are submitted to the license offices before the contract employees electronically transmit the material to the DOR in Jefferson City, Missouri. The servers used by the Department of Revenue to communicate with the contract facilities are located outside the State of Missouri.

5. Upon receipt of the material transmitted by the contract license offices, the DOR registers the vehicle to the applicant and mails the new title from Jefferson City, Missouri to the address designated on the title application.

B. The Scheme to Defraud

6. Beginning on or about April 1, 2018, and continuing through on or about December 19, 2023, in the Eastern District of Missouri and elsewhere, the defendant, devised, and intended to devise, a scheme and artifice to obtain money or property and to defraud the State of Missouri and motor vehicle lienholders, by fraudulently claiming ownership of vehicles that were the subject of proceedings in the United States Bankruptcy Court.

7. It was part of the scheme and artifice to defraud and to obtain money and property that:

- a. For the purpose of facilitating the surrender of vehicles that had been the subject of bankruptcy proceedings, Michael Toscano, the owner of Toscano Enterprises LLC, and persons unknown to the Grand Jury, persuaded the owners of the vehicles to deliver their vehicles and keys to him at either (1) 10880 Bauer Boulevard, St. Louis, Missouri, the office building in which he was a tenant, and (2) a storage facility he rented in St. Charles County, Missouri.
- b. In the event that the vehicle was inoperable, Michael Toscano (“Defendant”) agreed to travel to the disabled car to take it into his custody.
- c. Despite having authorized the delivery of the vehicles to 10880 Baur Boulevard and the St. Charles County storage facility by the vehicle owners and having retrieved the vehicles from other areas at the behest of the vehicle owners, Defendant fraudulently advised the lienholders and the DOR that the vehicles had been abandoned at 10880 Baur Boulevard, St. Louis, Missouri and that he had incurred towing and storage fees as a result of the purported abandonment.
- d. Defendant mailed documents to lienholders demanding the payment of fraudulent towing and storage fees and placing them on notice that he would seek an abandoned motor vehicle title if the fees were not paid within 30 days of the notice.

e. When lienholders failed to remit the inflated fees prior to the expiration of the statutorily required 30-day notice period, Defendant submitted false and fraudulent documents to the contract license offices of the DOR seeking the issuance of abandoned vehicle titles in the name of his business, Toscano Enterprises, LLC.

f. Believing Defendant's representations to be true, the DOR mailed abandoned vehicle titles to Toscano Enterprises LLC at 10880 Baur Boulevard, St. Louis, Missouri.

g. After fraudulently obtaining ownership of the vehicles, Defendant offered them for sale through his used car dealership.
